Read Wordsworth by candlelight nestled in Dove Cottage in the Lake District where he lived most of his life and wrote much of his beloved poetry. Ramble the trails in the Lake District that inspired other writers and painters of the Romantic period. Then explore the gleaming international metropolis of London and discover the city that gave birth to Sherlock Holmes and Scrooge.

Undergraduate students have the opportunity to earn literature core credit and graduate students earn graduate English credit while visiting and studying in the Lake District & London. The itinerary includes the following:

- Take a literary tour of London,
- Visit the British Museum,
- Enjoy theater at the Globe,
- Visit Westminster’s Poets’ Corner,
- Amble the Lake District,
- Read poetry and enjoy food made from William Wordsworth’s recipes at Dove Cottage,
- View and study original manuscripts held at the Wordsworth Trust,
- And many other activities.
