Get Out. Get Creative.

Developing your creative side can be energizing and fun! The Sharon Lynne Wilson Center and Mount Mary College have teamed up to offer affordable, convenient classes geared for high school students and adults. No experience necessary – just an open mind and a desire to grow through hands-on exploration of the creative arts.

Intro to Drawing

Ages 14 to Adult

Mondays • Feb 20 - April 2, 2012 • 6-8:30 p.m.

$68 / $62 for Wilson Center donors.

Supplies not included. A supply list will be provided.

Learn the basics of observational drawing. Students will work from still life and other resources to learn the fundamentals of form, line, shading and much more. Artist and instructor Eriks Johnson brings an international perspective and a midwestern eye to this class. A Milwaukee native, he has managed two galleries, exhibited his own work in the U.S. and Europe, and now teaches throughout the area.

$38 / $34 for Wilson Center donors.

Note: Each session will take place at a different location.

Karla Mattson

Get the most from your digital point-and-shoot camera by exploring typical controls, techniques, terminology, composition and subject. Learn some digital editing tricks too! Instructor Karla Mattson is a digital artist with a passion for outdoor photography. From the zoo to the woods, she finds natural objects and incorporates them into something new. A member of the Mount Mary College faculty, Karla has over 20 years of experience capturing Wisconsin's beauty.
