Why do I need to have my educational credentials evaluated?

If you completed your education outside of the U.S., you must have your credentials evaluated in order to have them understood and recognized by educational institutions, employers, licensing and certification boards in the U.S. An educational credential evaluation will provide you with the U.S. academic equivalents for your credentials and allow you to pursue further education or seek employment in the U.S.

When should I have my credentials evaluated?

You should have your credentials evaluated as early as possible so that you can make the most out of the evaluation. If you plan to continue your studies at a U.S. college or university and have not yet decided where to apply, an educational credential evaluation can help you make that decision by showing you how your educational credentials are viewed in the United States. You can use that information to apply to schools that are appropriate for your educational background. Likewise, if you are seeking employment, the evaluation will help you identify positions for which you have the requisite educational background.

What types of evaluations are available?

An evaluation compares your credentials with their U.S. educational equivalents. The evaluation is advisory and it is designed to help academic institutions, licensing boards and employers in the U.S. understand foreign credentials.

Any post secondary (college) education credentials:

The evaluation has to be done course-by-course. For credit transferability purposes we might request a more comprehensive evaluation to make course descriptions visible. Any available course syllabus might be helpful if student plans to transfer credits from their previous education. You can also check the internet for other evaluation services within the United States.

Generally two types of evaluations are offered:

A General Report with Grade Average ($110 at ECE)

- U.S. educational equivalence for each educational credential beginning with the final year of high school
- Grade average for U.S. equivalent university-level credentials
- Grade average for high school level study if no U.S. equivalent university-level study was completed

Course by Course Report ($140 at ECE)

- U.S. equivalence for each educational credential, beginning with the final year of high school
- Credit and grade equivalents for each U.S. equivalent university-level course
- Grade average for each U.S. equivalent university-level credential
- Identifies upper level courses for U.S. equivalent undergraduate studies
- General evaluation of high school level credentials (without a grade average) if any U.S. equivalent university-level study was completed
- U.S. unit and grade equivalents for each high school level course, if no U.S. equivalent university-level study was completed
- Grade average for high school level credentials, if no U.S. equivalent university-level study was completed

What if my documents are not in English?

If your documents are not in English, you must submit precise word-for-word English translations together with your foreign-language documents. Translations prepared by the school or university that you attended or by authorized translators in your home country are acceptable. If you need to find a translator in the U.S., you may wish to contact University Language Services, Inc. 1-800-419-4601. Outside the U.S., call 212-766-4111. This information is provided for your convenience only. All arrangements must be made directly with the translation service of your choice.
