Take part in a month-long study abroad program to Spain, May 31 – June 30, 2016, with a focus on Spanish language and culture, in cooperation with Sol Education Abroad.

Fly direct to Granada, one of the hippest, most youthful cities in Spain, located at the foot of the Sierra Nevada mountains and only one hour from the Mediterranean coast. Participants will enjoy weekend excursions to Seville and Córdoba, as well as excursions to explore mountain villages and relax for a day at the coast on Nerja Beach.

During the week, participants will take Spanish courses at the appropriate level at the University of Granada’s Center for Modern Languages. Participants live with host families in Granada, in order to gain additional insight into Spanish culture while enjoying home-style Spanish cooking.

Known for the historic influence of the Islamic culture on its art and architecture, Granada is also the site of the Alhambra, a world-famous Moorish palace. Week-day cultural activities include options such as guided walking tours of diverse, historic neighborhoods, including the Albaicín and Realejo, a guided tour of the Alhambra, visiting the Arabic Tea House, horseback riding, Flamenco dance class, movie night, and enjoying the Arabic Baths.
