UPDATED OCTOBER 2023

This example four-year plan is intended to outline the number and types of courses a student might take in order to fulfill the degree, major, core and elective requirements to graduate. Students meet with their academic advisor each semester to review progress toward fulfilling their degree requirements.

ENGLISH

SCHOOL OF ARTS & SCIENCES

Concentration: Literature

Literature Concentration

When you study literature, you learn to love words and appreciate their beauty and power. By encountering the imaginary, you build your own ability to imagine what could be. Literature students develop skills in holding multiple perspectives at once, making them valuable and creative problem solvers who can connect with people of all backgrounds. A major in literature will equip you with the most-needed and sought-after job skills: strong writing, insightful analysis, creative problem solving and positive collaboration.

Internships: We Prepare You For Employment

As an English major, you will participate in at least one internship during your academic career, at a site that best meets your career goals. The department internship coordinator works closely with you to help you find a competitive internship that will provide you with the resume-building experience you need before you graduate.

Milwaukee's vibrant business community affords Mount Mary students a range of internship opportunities, working at international corporations, locally owned businesses and nonprofit organizations. In recent years, Mount Mary English majors have interned at:

- Children's Hospital of Wisconsin
- Coalition for Children, Youth & Families
- First Stage Milwaukee
- Kalmbach Publishing
- Literacy Services of Wisconsin
- Manpower
- Medical College of Wisconsin
- MetroPARENT Magazine
- Milwaukee Art Museum
- Milwaukee Magazine
- Milwaukee Zoological Society
- Milwaukee Public Museum
- Reiman Publications
- Robert W. Baird and Co.
- Shepherd Express
- Wisconsin Public Radio
